President's Message

The ILCA works to enhance the professionalism and capabilities of members by providing leadership, education, representation and services.

In our industry, we have a variety of needs in servicing our clients. Each of us depends on others to provide solutions. The ILCA understands your company's needs and each year we publish the ILCA Green Industry Guide to assist you in your day to day operations.

Landscape contractors are confronted with a variety of challenges: design dilemmas; product choices; lawn, plant and tree healthcare issues; computer and mobile device glitches; vehicle and equipment breakdowns and choices; plant shortages and more. Some of these issues are beyond our scope of expertise. We need our industry partners to discuss, guide and help us tackle the issues of the day as quickly as possible. This allows us to us increase our productivity and help the bottom line. It is important to create a network of companies that know how to do what you don't know how to do or don't do. Your network allows you the opportunity to provide the landscape solutions needed to take care of your clients and their requests.

I ask you to take a moment and flip through the pages to familiarize yourself with this special publication — your ILCA Green Industry Guide. Keep this guide handy throughout the year because it is the perfect place to start when you are in need.

Armstrong GOLDTM

Acer rubrum 'JFS-KW78'

Zone: 4
Height: 40'
Spread: 12'
Shape: Narrow, tightly fastigate
Foliage: Medium green
Fall Color: Golden to orange

Slender spires of rich green leaves turn to bright golden orange in autumn. Narrow, tightly columnar form brings beauty, utility, and a strongly vertical design element to streetscapes and landscapes where space is at a premium.

Brighter foliage color in summer and fall, greater foliage density and compact, less leggy growth habit recommend it for street tree use over its widely planted parent. Choose low-branched forms to create perfect hedges.

WE GROW RINGS AROUND THE COMPETITION

At Kaneville Tree Farms, we're known for our larger sized specimens, sturdy, unblemished and long-lived trees. In fact, we own a large tract near where most others camp. With trees that are as big as quarters and our trees are growing, we're saving you the hassle of growing your own. For more information, contact us today. It's not like the worst specimen tree, they're growing fast just like the rest of us at Kaneville Tree Farms. Call us today at (800) 557-3793 or fax us at (800) 557-2995.

Producers of Natural, Building and Landscape Stone

Meeting your residential and commercial stone needs

Harvested from an area known as the Niagara Escarpment, Eden and Valders Stone are fortunate to have access to material that is time tested as well as aesthetically driven. The mineral composition as well as the tight compaction of these layers resulted in an extremely dense, high strength Limestone.

Membership

The American Society of Landscape Architects - Illinois Chapter (ILASLA)

The American Society of Landscape Architects was organized in 1899 as the first professional organization for landscape architects. Today, almost 18,000 landscape architects in public, private and academic practice nationwide are members of the ASLA.

Illinois has one of the largest chapters of ASLA in the nation with more than 500 members. The mission of landscape architecture is to lead the stewardship, planning, and design of our built and natural environments. The mission is to advance landscape architecture through advocacy, communication, education, and fellowship.

The profession of landscape architecture is a licensed profession in the State of Illinois. To achieve licensure and the privilege to use the title "Landscape Architect" most licensed landscape architects have completed a minimum of a four year professional degree program, which is accredited by the Landscape Architectural Accreditation Board. Professional education is just one requirement of becoming a registered landscape architect. Most registered landscape architects have taken and passed the Landscape Architecture Review Examination (LARE) a national test administered by the Council of Landscape Architectural Registration Boards.

Membership

The Midwest Ecological Landscape Alliance (MELA)

MELA is a movement dedicated to creating, restoring and preserving sustainable landscapes. MELA pursues this through education, collaboration and networking. MELA's vision is to transform the green industry so that sustainable design, materials and methods are the professional standard. MELA helps members learn how to protect the planet and her people without compromising profits.

For all advocates of sustainable landscapes, MELA is the Midwest's leader in the green outdoors movement. MELA welcomes to its membership not only green industry professionals, but also individuals, government organizations, corporate sustainability officers, Master Gardeners, and anyone who is concerned about landscape sustainability. MELA was organized in 2003 by Mike Nowak and Connie Cunningham. Its purpose has always been to:

- Promote environmentally responsible landscaping and horticultural practices to professionals and to the public
- Serve as an educational and scientific resource for the horticulture industry

Ornamental Growers Association of Northern Illinois

Membership

The Ornamental Growers Association of Northern Illinois(OGA)

The Ornamental Growers Association of Northern Illinois is an organization of nurseries in northeastern Illinois. The association was founded in the early 1940's with the desire to work together to provide quality nursery stock acclimated to the Midwest and northern states. Now, 65 years later, the organization still meets monthly with the same goals and traditions in mind.

The OGA is distinguished from other organizations with the true diversity of its membership. OGA members produce quality material ranging from the staples of the landscape to trend-setters in the market. This material is produced on land that exceeds 6,500 acres. You can find plant material from liners to 20' specimens, including perennials, evergreens, deciduous trees and shrubs. Everything OGA members offer can be found at OGAONI.COM, or in the published PLANT LOCATOR.

The OGA market includes other nurseries, park districts, landscape contractors, landscape architects, municipalities and other government entities.

Other OGA efforts include trade show participation, educational events, and the Chicagoland Grows®, Inc. Plant Introduction Program. This program is a joint venture of the OGA, the Chicago Botanic Garden and The Morton Arboretum. Its primary purpose is to identify, evaluate and commercialize new plant cultivars that are particularly well adapted to growing conditions in the upper Midwest.
